

Research profile

Olivia Mair is a contract lecturer in English at both the Università Cattolica and the Università degli Studi in Milan and has over 15 years' experience as an ELT practitioner, with a special interest in young learners. She coordinated a CLIL in-service teacher-training programme conducted by a team from the Università Cattolica, Milan and is involved in ongoing training and consultancy. The CLIL teacher-training programme is the subject of a forthcoming publication. She has over 15 years' experience as an ELT practitioner, with a special interest in young learners, and has taught English language at pre-school, primary and upper secondary level, as well as at university. She holds a PhD from the University of Western Australia, where she taught before moving to Italy in 2007.